

A Scalable Approach to Incident Management

A crisis is not the time to dust off a policy manual or search for rarely used medical gear. Instead, responders should be using the same tools they use in their daily responsibilities.

That's Why Pulsara was Built to Scale

Pulsara's Special Event and Incident Management functionality is built upon the same intuitive platform that responders already use and love. During a stress event, teams can:

- ✓ Triage and track patients beyond the event to disposition
- ✓ Scan barcodes — such as custom armbands or triage tags — to quickly create a patient channel or add other responders
- ✓ Monitor the situation and coordinate response across regions from a centralized Pulsara HQ dashboard

When emergency responders use Pulsara to communicate on a daily basis, they're effectively practicing such that in the event of a crisis, they can reach for the same, familiar tool they already know how to use.
